KENTO'S JOURNAL

Marcos and I left Rio de Janeiro yesterday and took a plane to Manaus. We are in the middle of the Amazon jungle now. The Amazon is really beautiful and very quiet. The only noise comes from the birds. There were some people here yesterday, but today there aren't any – only us , which makes the place even quieter.

The river is amazing. It's very wide and the water is not polluted. Yesterday, I was taking some photos when I saw some birds sitting on what I thought were gray stones in the river. But they were not gray stones – they were crocodiles !! The river is full of them !! We're not going to have dinner tonight. We don't have a can opener, and there aren't any matches, and there isn't any rice or water, so we can't cook . Well , we're not hungry, but we're really thirsty. I need to look for some water !!
